

BRITAIN WILL FIGHT REDS

One all-important question debated by war chiefs during recent defense discussions was whether Great Britain would throw its weight with the U. S. in case of a Red army sweep across Europe.

It is no secret that there has been strong sentiment in war-weary Britain for sitting out the next war. Five years of buzz-bombs and living in air-raid shelters have made a lot of Brits feel that neutrality may be the best policy.

Incidentally this opinion is also widely held by many Frenchmen, Belgians, Dutch and other continentalers.

The answer to this question was all-important to U. S. defense planners. They had to figure out in advance whether the United States would be able to have air bases near the European continent. With the Red army probably sweeping to the English Channel in a few weeks in case of war, Britain and Spain would be the only potential bases usable by the United States.

However, definite word has now been given the United States by the British government that, if Russia attacks, Britain will fight, British bases will be available to American bombers.

★ Navajos Own Valuable Land

It now looks as if the poverty-stricken Navajo Indians, trying to scratch a precarious living from the wastelands of Arizona and New Mexico, may own one of the most priceless pieces of property in the U. S.

For some time our chief worry in production of atomic energy was the fact that all uranium deposits lay outside the United States. However, it now appears that the Navajos have been tending their pitiful flocks above a hidden atomic treasure. For, upon the Navajo reservation in the upper corner of Arizona and New Mexico, the Vanadium Corporation of America has been quietly extracting uranium.

Further details regarding this operation must remain a military secret. One amazing fact can be revealed. So far, the Navajos haven't received one penny for the uranium taken from their land. Instead, the profits have been raked in by the Vanadium corporation.

The price which the atomic energy commission is paying the Vanadium corporation for uranium also is secret, but a member of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy predicted that the metal may become almost as precious as diamonds. Since the richest deposits are all outside the United States and could be cut off in case of war, this domestic supply becomes all the more valuable.

But the Navajos, sitting on one of nature's jackpots, so far haven't been able to collect a cent. Reason for this again is largely obscured by secrecy, and only part of the story can be told within the limits of national security.

For one thing, uranium does not exist in its pure form on the reservation but must be extracted as a by-product from vanadium. The only leases to dig for vanadium on Navajo territory—six in all—are held by the Vanadium corporation. These leases specify that the Indians will be paid 10 per cent royalty on all mineral compounds—except vanadium compounds.

In the latter case, the royalty is stipulated as 10 per cent of the vanadium oxide, a metal used to toughen steel. Since uranium is part of the raw vanadium ore until processed, the company conceivably might get away with paying royalty only on the comparatively valueless vanadium oxide, not on the other raw vanadium out of which uranium comes.

The Indian service takes the view that uranium is a separate metal apart from vanadium, therefore is subject to the full 10 per cent royalty fee.

Early season efforts of "Smokey," The Fire Preventin' Bear got off to a flying start in Sacramento when Governor Earl Warren officially opened the 1948 campaign to prevent forest, range, and watershed fires. Representatives of the California Fire Prevention Committee, a citizens' group made up of more than 85 private and governmental concerns, that met with Governor Warren include Chairman DeWitt Nelson, State Forester; (holding poster) and from left to right, William H. Fairbank, Campaign Director; Harry W. Stewart, Division Manager, Shell Oil Company, also representing the California State Chamber of Commerce; Harry E. Owens, Division Manager, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company; Henry Clineschmidt, President, Associated Sportsmen of California; and W. I. Hutchinson, U. S. Forest Service.

C. of C. President Resigns Because Of Ill Health

The resignation of Harry D. Blanchard, president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce was tendered the Board of Directors at the last board meeting, May 23. Pressure of private business and ill health were the reasons given by Mr. Blanchard in his letter of resignation. Mr. Blanchard recently returned from O'Connor Hospital where he had undergone a major operation for a shoulder injury.

Mr. Blanchard had served the Chamber since early last winter. He succeeded Ira Grim, Campbell postmaster and president in 1946-47. His efforts in assisting the Chamber's work on Old Settlers' Day last February 22 were rewarded by having the event one of the most successful in the 57-year history of the day.

In a statement to the Board of Directors Mr. Blanchard urged that the Chamber follow the suggestions of Frank Accardi and William Maderis in fostering public service and encouraging a "trade at home" policy.

Mr. Blanchard's tenure was marked by internal dissension caused by the action of the members voting to sponsor the incorporation election of the town. While the majority of the members voted to support the issue, there were many who felt that it was beyond the province of such an organization to actively participate in anything of a political nature. However, the decision had been made before Mr. Blanchard took office and the work was carried on at the direction of the membership.

High School Seniors Look Forward To Graduation Ceremony on June 18

Caps and gowns—the traditional excitement of the junior-senior prom—the solemn procession of baccalaureate service—and the big moment when each senior receives his diploma are all looming prominently on the calendar for Campbell Union High School's Class of '48.

Between now and Friday, June 11, when a formal dance will launch senior week, class members will hold their sneak day—an unannounced holiday at which twelfth graders may take recess from books and class regimens for the last time as undergraduates.

Graduation ceremonies will take place at 5 p.m. June 13 at the high school athletic field. At the close of the program Laurence J. Hill, principal, and Miss Helen M. Nielsen, faculty advisor, will present the diplomas on behalf of the Board of Trustees.

P. O. Eagle Gilded

Have you noticed the symbol of strength and justice guarding the portal of the U. S. Post Office on Campbell avenue? Most people in passing through the door on their daily mail gathering rounds had failed to see the plaque of the American Eagle perched a few feet over their heads.

But now, thanks to Ira Grim, postmaster, something new has been added. The large square cement plaque on which the eagle is mounted is painted a gleaming white. The eagle itself has been gold-leafed against an apple green background.

Bill Shepherd Wins Scout's Eagle Award

Boy Scouting's highest rank—that of Eagle Scout—was awarded William Shepherd Thursday night, May 27, at a Court of Honor held by the local council in high school auditorium.

Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Carlson of Fruitdale avenue and is the second scout in his family to achieve the eagle badge, his brother having gained the rank some two years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlson stood with him on the stage as Scouter Robert Hersbach presented the pin. His parents were the first to congratulate him on the award.

Local troops and cub scouts took part in the honor court program at which George A. Jeffers presided, in the absence of Homer Hyde, council president.

Country Folks Aid in Large Vote On Campbell Incorporation Issue

That quaking feeling you may have noticed around town the other day might have been caused by certain unnamed county officials plus a few local citizens who were violently opposed to the incorporation of Campbell.

With the voting rolling merrily along it was suddenly discovered that folks from "out in the country" were coming to town in large numbers to cast their ballots. Confusion reigned for quite a few tense moments in the headquarters of precinct number 2.

One irate citizen boiled into the Press office with the startling announcement that folks from Dry Creek Road and sundry parts without the area to be incorporated were voting. The Press employees are used to hearing the unusual, but this one smacked of something more than gossip. Investigation disclosed that it was a fact that people had received sample ballots and not being quite sure of whether or not they were eligible... they took no chances. They came to town... and they voted—that is, until the matter was clarified in the minds of the election board. But, the damage had been done. Many illegal ballots were safely sealed in the big wooden box, and there they remained until 7 p.m. when they were counted along with the good ones.

The misunderstanding arose from the fact that maps had been sent from the County Registrars office showing the seven Campbell precincts where voters residing therein were to vote in the June

To Nominate Slate For Chamber of Commerce Officers

Candidates for office in the Campbell Chamber of Commerce for the new term will be selected by a nominating committee appointed at a dinner meeting Wednesday evening.

George A. Jeffers, Laurence J. Hill, William Maderis, James A. Arends Sr. and Frank Accardi are members of the nominating committee. They will report at a meeting slated for 6:30 p.m. June 16 in Country Woman's clubhouse.

Ira H. Grim, past president, conducted the meeting Wednesday in the absence of Harry D. Blanchard, president, who resigned this week and Gus Standish, vice president.

Offices of the Campbell Water company and The Campbell Press were designated as places where the map of Campbell will be on display during the next two weeks so that interested persons may indicate corrections that should be made in the 'second edition' of the map now in preparation.

National Perlite In Production

The National Perlite Company, with head offices and processing plant in Campbell are this week in production. The company processes a trade-named product called Perlite from a form of volcanic rock mined in parts of Arizona and Nevada.

Perlite is said to be unequalled as an insulating material and in the manufacture of a high grade building board. Finished boards present the appearance of plaster board but the manufacturers claim that they are far superior since they can be nailed or cut into any desired shape without breaking. The material is also fire-proof and holds top rank as an insulator against both heat and cold.

The local plant, situated at the end of Railroad avenue, has been undergoing extensive remodeling work for many months. A great amount of experimental work had to be done on the furnaces, which operate temperatures up to 2500 degrees. The high heat necessary to separate the perlite from the crushed rock breaks down almost every known refractory. Engineering specialists were called in to advise on what might be the best type of fire-resisting refractory to use and they finally came up with the answer. "Use Perlite in the refractory mix," they said. The idea is proving successful, and so the plant now utilizes some of their own product in the furnaces which do the actual producing.

According to Fred Keating, engineer in charge of the plant, production is extremely limited at this time. What he actually means is that the demand far exceeds the supply. Orders have poured in to the local company from all over the United States. The present plant was originally designed more as a pilot unit than a production plant. But the demand for the material is so great that the company is forced to utilize all their facilities for actual production. Expansion plans are underway, however, and when everything is considered to be running smoothly additional equipment will be added.

Campbell precincts gave republican presidential candidate Gov. Earl Warren preference over President Harry S. Truman by a substantial margin in the primary election here Tuesday.

Early returns showed fewer votes cast in the primary than in the special Campbell election of May 25.

Official canvass of the votes was to begin this afternoon by Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors.

First figures available on balloting in six local precincts showed Jack Z. Anderson, incumbent congressman, defeated both his opponents, Oliver J. Todd and Jonathan Rowell, and indicated Jack F. Thompson, assemblyman from the 29th district may be opposed in the November elections by Harold Seyferth.

Fifteen Freeholders were named by county electors to draw up a county charter to be presented on the November ballot.

Warren received 387 preferential votes Tuesday among six precincts here and delegates for Truman at the National Democratic convention polled 260 votes.

Anderson was the choice of 375 republicans and 196 democrats for a total of 571 votes here Tuesday. Interest in the unopposed Freeholder candidates ranged from 159 votes, cast for the county charter slate in precinct No. 7 to a mere 19 Freeholder ballots marked in precinct 4. Most precincts, however, reported a substantial vote on the issue.

Homemaking Today

By Claire Raymond
P. G. and E. Home Economist, San Jose

Tapioa is back on grocers' shelves. Once again homemakers can serve those fluffy, tender creams and fruit puddings which are so popular with the whole family. Because they are nourishing and easily digested, tapioa desserts are especially good for children.

Tapioa cream can be made in quantity and stored in an air-tight glass container in your refrigerator. With this basic pudding, you can have a variety of desserts simply by serving it with different fruits, sauces or flavorings. Prepared tapioa puddings are new on the market and make easy, quick desserts.

Quick-cooking tapioa can be used in other dishes such as soups, souffles, omelets, casserole dishes, meat loaves or pies. When it is used as the thickening agent in fruit pies, the juice is clear, bright in color and just right in consistency. Meat loaves are moist, but easy to slice. Omelets and souffles, made with tapioa, keep their light puffy texture.

These recipes suggest different ways to use tapioa.

CHEESE SOUFFLE

3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioa
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
¾ cup grated American cheese
3 eggs, separated

Fresh strawberries are here again. M-m-m! They're an open invitation to all homemakers to get out the cream pitcher or mixing bowl and produce a surprise for the dessert hours in the family. Berries and cream, shortcake—what will you have?

Here is a recipe for strawberry pie that is easy to make and may be new to you. The pleasing combination of fresh berries and cream cheese is a perfect "topper" for a heavy meal.

STRAWBERRY PIE

1 baked 8-inch pastry shell
1 pint fresh strawberries, sliced
½ cup sugar
1 package strawberry gelatin
¾ teaspoon salt
2 packages cream cheese
¾ cup cream

Bake pastry shell. Cool. Wash berries, hull, slice and add sugar. Prepare the gelatin according to the directions on the package, using any juice from the strawberries as part of the liquid. Add the salt and cool until the gelatin begins to thicken, then add berries. Combine cream cheese with the cream and beat until like stiff whipped cream. Spread ½ of the cheese in the bot-

Combine tapioa, salt and milk in saucepan. Place over low heat and cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add cheese and stir until melted. Cool slightly. Beat egg whites and yolks separately. Add beaten egg yolks to tapioa-cheese mixture and stir well. Fold gradually but thoroughly into egg whites. Turn into greased 1½ quart baking dish. Place in a pan of hot water; bake for 50 minutes, or until firm, in oven preheated to 350° F. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

MEAT LOAF

1½ tablespoons diced salt pork or bacon
4 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 pounds ground round beef
¾ cup quick-cooking tapioa
¾ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups crushed canned tomatoes

Fry salt pork or bacon until medium crisp, add onion and cook until golden brown. Add to other ingredients and mix thoroughly. Turn into a greased pan. If using a bread pan, bake 1 hour and 15 minutes in oven preheated to 350° F. For a 10x5x3 inch pan, bake 1 hour at the same temperature. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

tom of the baked pastry shell, reserving the remainder for the top of the pie. Place the gelatin-strawberry mixture over the cream cheese layer. Chill until firm. Garnish the top of the pie around the edge with the remaining whipped cream, using a pastry tube or dropping from a teaspoon. Makes one 8-inch pie.

STRAWBERRY MOUSSE

1 quart strawberries
¾ cup sugar
1½ cups whipping cream OR
1 tall can evaporated milk, thoroughly chilled
3 tablespoons lemon juice

Select sound well-ripened berries. Wash, remove stems, drain and mash, or press through a coarse sieve. This makes about 1½ to 2 cups pulp and juice. If berries are sour, ¼ cup more sugar will be required. Add sugar to pulp and stir occasionally until it is dissolved. Whip cream or milk until stiff. Fold in lemon juice and strawberry mixture. Pour at once into cold freezing trays. Turn the temperature control to coldest setting at least ½ hour before putting mousse in to freeze. When completely frozen, turn control back to normal position to "ripen." Makes 3 pints.

was originated by a miner rather than by a chef, is one of the most famous. It takes its name from the early mining camp, Hangtown, which is now Placerville.

HANGTOWN FRY

6 bacon slices
1 pint small oysters
Bacon fat or butter
6 eggs
Cream
Salt and pepper

Cut bacon in 1-inch squares. Fry slowly until medium crisp and remove. Drain oysters well and slowly simmer in ¼ cup of the bacon fat or butter until edges begin to curl. Break eggs in bowl and stir in about ¼ cup cream. Pour over oysters, add bacon and scramble everything together. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Makes 6 servings.

Corn Dodger was a quick corn bread that was a standby of the pioneers. It is good served with Hangtown Fry.

CORN DODGER

2 cups corn meal
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons shortening
1¾ cups boiling water

Pour boiling water over the corn meal, salt and shortening. Beat well. Cool, then form into thin cakes and bake 30 minutes in a hot oven. Makes about 14 biscuits. They are good with butter or gravy, and with meat and vegetables.

LANDINGS -- THEN AND LATER

The Navy's role in the assaults of American forces on the shores and beaches of enemy territory has been indispensable throughout its history, although the invasion methods have changed radically with each conflict. Above photo of an old print depicts the landing of American forces under General Scott at Vera Cruz in 1847—amphibious operation, Mexican War style. Below is a scene from World War II, taken nearly a century later, as Marines stormed the black beach of Iwo Jima beneath scowling Mt. Suribachi in the landing craft of a scientific age. County Ends Fiscal Year On June 30

Salaries and wages in Santa Clara county's budget for 1947-48, the fiscal year which ends June 30, upped the county tax rate 20.41 cents, maintenance and operation raised the rate 10.62 cents, aged aid caused a 1.49 cent increase in the county rate, other welfare aids increased the rate 12.52 cents, capital outlay caused a 10.74 cent increase, bond requirements cut the rate 52/100 cents, and provision for reserves increased the rate 4.96 cents, California Taxpayers' Association reported today, making public its study of factors causing changes in county tax rates for general purposes for 1947-48.

Total tax rate for general county purposes for the county was $1.7226 for 1947-48, compared with $1.7475 for 1946-47.

Subventions and grants from the federal and state governments, surplus, nontax revenues, unsecured taxes, change in valuation of taxable property, and provision for delinquency also affected the tax rate, the association pointed out.

"A cent today isn't much use, except for paying taxes," the Taxpayers' association said.

"The cents added to the price of purchases at retail will amount to $275,000,000 in collections for

Navy Offers Ensignships To Graduates

Approximately 800 college graduates are being offered commissions as ensigns in naval aviation this spring. These young men will receive their commissions in the regular navy early this summer and will then be sent to Pensacola, Florida, "The Annapolis of the Air" for from one to four months of indoctrination training followed by approximately 18 months of flight training. Successful officer-pilots will then be sent to regular naval aviation units ashore and carrier based, for duty.

Those officers who fail in flight training will be given honorable discharges and will be returned to their homes where they may re-enter civilian life. Those unsuccessful flight students who would like to make the navy a career in a nonflying status will be permitted to apply, and, if vacancies exist, will be given consideration.

Those officers who are sent to the fleet as aviators will be required to serve for two years from the date of receipt of their "wings." If their records are satisfactory they will then be given the opportunity of accepting permanent commissions and making the navy a career, or they may resign. Those who elect to resign will be required to accept commissions in the naval reserve for two additional years—or six years from the date of the original commission.

This is a career program and officers now in the naval reserve who meet the educational physical requirements are eligible.

its regular meeting on June 9, 1948, at 8 p.m., at the Campbell Grammar school, Campbell.

Charles Gubser, Santa Clara County Farm Bureau delegate and tomato and truck crops chairman, will address the meeting. The subject of his talk will be on the work and recommendations of the Farm Bureau House of Delegates.

Stuart Fletcher, prune section chairman and prune program committee member, will explain the proposed amendments to the marketing program for prunes.

Paul Rinauro, Willow Glen cherry grower, will report on the cherry situation. Carlton Rouse, center apricot chairman, will report on activities of that commodity.

Farm Bureau Field Secretary Andy Unruh will make a report on the progress and achievements of the county organization.

"The next regular meeting of the Westside Center will take place in October," Gerdtz stated. "Commodity work, however, will be carried on right through the summer."

Frank L. Steindorf, cherry department chairman, reported that the recent rains have done considerable damage to the Black Tartarian crop to such an extent that trees ready to pick had to be left unpicked because of the high cost of picking and sorting involved. For this reason, even trees that appear 30 per cent damaged actually means a complete loss to the grower.

Damage to the Bing variety has been noted only on those clusters which were considerably advanced. Other hard varieties have suffered no damage.

Canners and processors are very active in the field. Offers of 17½ cents for Royal Annes and Bings for brining purposes have been reported.

Because of a nearly complete loss of the crop in the Pacific Northwest of brining cherries, packers here appear to be bidding against one another to get a good supply for their prospective fruit cocktail packs, this summer.

Cherries for brining should sell for more money than those for canning since their picking must be done before ripeness is reached. Fully ripened fruit is considerably heavier than cherries suitable for brining.

At this time, Charles J. Cali, County Farm Bureau president, disclosed that Mrs. Phyllis Brown is in the employ of Farm Bureau as office secretary, replacing Mrs. Sheila Benech, who resigned following her marriage to Raymond Benech, Campbell orchardist. Mrs. Brown is also a licensed notary ter our opportunities, or that of our neighbors. We forget the petty, personal trivialities for the betterment of our community.

The time is not far distant when our community will be known as a town in its own right, independent of Campbell. We will forge ahead and GO PLACES as a community while Campbell will stay as it is now, not even on the maps. SAN TOMAS is daily growing larger than Campbell. Perhaps, some time in the not far distant future we can take in the sleeping suburb of Campbell.

Sincerely,
DONALD R. GIVEN.

public and will render such services when required by Farm Bureau members, free of charge.

Commenting on the prune situation, Stuart Fletcher said that a considerable late May drop has been noted in prune orchards throughout the county. This is considered beneficial from the standpoint of improving sizes and reducing the estimated surplus. However, this is a minor advantage. The big job of coping with the estimated surplus that seems certain to plague the industry is through a marketing program.

By this time a "Proposed Marketing Program for Prunes, as Amended," ought to be in the hands of every producer of prunes in the state, from a recent mailing by the State director of agriculture. Every grower is urged to study the provisions and changes in the proposed program and appear at the hearings set for the various prune producing districts, to present evidence for or against the program, so the final presentation represents the best thinking on a complex and serious problem.

Frank J. Polak, apricot section chairman, stated that many growers who normally dry all or a portion of their crop have expressed a desire that a marketing agreement should be initiated covering dried apricots. Polak said that the dry apricot market is in a deplorable state because of the poor quality fruit that has glutted it at high prices to the consumer. A marketing order covering this important commodity would improve the quality marketed and provide funds for advertising and trade promotion activities.

"No apricot buying activity is being noted. The recent rains have caused no damage to apricots," Polak concluded.

"The tomato situation in the county has remained taut," Charles Gubser, tomato and truck crops chairman, said. Last week, however, minor advantages were offered by canners on their regular tomato contracts that would mean a higher return to the grower than the regular $25.00 per ton deal.

Gubser warns growers that planting at this time even at a higher price may lose the grower money because the last picking may not reach maturity before killing frosts take place.

Mickey Craig, Farm Bureau membership secretary, will assume the duties of field secretary covering the Eastside and Northwest center territory for the months of June and July, replacing Field Secretary Anthony Iantosca, who will devote the next two months to the harvest of cherries and apricots on his orchard in Berryessa.

Iceland, an island republic on the rim of the Arctic Circle in the North Atlantic, has the world's oldest parliament, the Althing, which was founded more than 1000 years ago by the first European settlers. Governed by Denmark during much of her history, Iceland severed the last ties to that Kingdom when it became a republic in 1944. Of great strategic importance during World War II, the volcanic island now is vital to aviation and shipping using the great circle routes. Her 132,000 people depend mainly on commercial fishing for a livelihood. Iceland's representative to the United Nations is Thor Thors.
